

Majority of Ukrainian Women Raped by Age 9 and Subject To Sex Trafficking and Incest

By Tanya Julinki

- “Mail order brides” and “Hot Slavic Girlfriends” are often actually victims of a horrible sub-culture.
- The attractive Ukrainian gal you just met secretly wants to kill you because you are a man.
- Attractive young girls in Ukraine are destroyed before they reach adult-hood.
- Russian mob and sex gangs have their way with girls before they reach the U.S. and England

THE DANGERS OF MAIL ORDER BRIDES AND SOVIET BLOC “GIRLFRIENDS”:

When it sounds too good to be true, it usually is. The dangers of mail order brides is beautifully discussed in these four interesting TV shows and documentaries. First up is Dr. Phil’s episode on the $2 billion mail order bride industry. Interestingly, this episode of Dr. Phil shows both sides of the coin. The dangers of mail order brides, that is, marrying a woman who is not really in love with you. You see not-so-attractive and old bachelors looking for mail order brides that are not really suitable for them. If we are being brutally honest, these mail order brides are a bit too young, and too eager to get a greencard and move to the US to marry these old farts. Chances are that these mail order brides would drop their new husbands as soon as they find someone more eligible. On the flipside, the TV shows also shows the dangers for mail order brides marrying a not so nice American husband. In this case, you see a husband who is said to treat his Romanian mail order bride like a slave:

<http://youtu.be/t6gWheuh960>

Second, enjoy also the “Email Order Brides” documentary, which shows how a romance trip actually works. Not very glamorous if you ask me. There’s a reason why some of these men cannot easily find women in the US, and seek love abroad. It’s beautifully displayed in this documentary:

https://youtu.be/2dYOw_Rd2VM

Here’s another documentary entitled “Desperate Western Men Hunting for Wives in the Ukraine”, which also chronicles a romance tour and interviews the women behind-the-scenes:

<https://youtu.be/8wW7c58nMI4>

And last but not least a documentary on “Russian Beauties”. It’s for the beauties that can be found overseas that we bother to spend time and money to lure them, right?

https://youtu.be/Ox_9402184o

Mail-order bride is a label applied to a woman who publishes her intent to marry someone from another – usually more financially developed – country. Historically, mail-order brides were women who listed themselves in catalogs and were selected by men for marriage. Sometimes the men and women involved were citizens of different countries, e.g. women from European countries moving to the United States during the 18th and 19th centuries, and sometimes they involved citizens of the same country. This list looks at ten facts about mail order brides that you may not know.

The Sweet Escape

Most people think that Russian brides are desperate women who want nothing more than to marry a foreigner (preferably American) to get the hell out of Russia and start a new life. But in fact, this is almost always incorrect. Russia has a man shortage; there are roughly 8 men for every 10 women in a culture which is very marriage-oriented. Consequently, many Russian women are compelled to look outside of Russia for a husband. As one mail order bride company says: “[Russian Brides] feel as if you were one of the guys who would approach her at a bar: where she can say, “yes” if she likes you, and “thanks, but no, thanks” if she doesn’t.”

Dangers Involved

Being a mail-order bride can be very dangerous. There are at least four recent cases of American men murdering (sometimes quite brutally) their mail-order bride. But it does go both ways: there is also a case of a mail-order bride murdering her American husband. Before involving yourself in the mail order marriage industry, it pays to really consider the reasons behind your future wife or husband using this method to find their partner for life. You might get lucky and meet someone leaving their home country for the reasons cited in item 10, but you might be one of the unlucky ones who ends up dead. here is the description of just one such case:

Anastasia King, a young woman from Kyrgyzstan, was found strangled and buried in a shallow grave in Washington state in December 2000. At the age of 18, Anastasia had received an email from a 38-year-old Seattle man, Indle King, from a mail order bride website. He flew to her country and they were married soon after. Two years later, after considerable strife, Indle wanted another bride. He was allegedly unwilling to pay for a divorce so he ordered a tenant in their Washington home to kill Anastasia. Weighing nearly 300 pounds, her husband pinned Anastasia down while the tenant strangled her with a necktie. Both were convicted of murder.

The United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) reports that “...marriages arranged through [mail order bride] services would appear to have a lower divorce rate than the nation as a whole, fully 80 percent of these marriages having lasted over the years for which reports are available.” The USCIS also reports that “... mail-order bride and e-mail correspondence services result in 4,000 to 6,000 marriages between U.S. men and foreign brides each year.”

American Frontier

The concept of mail-order brides was first seen on the American frontier during the mid-1800s. Men from the East were migrating West in hopes of claiming land, farming, establishing businesses, and finding gold. Most of these men found financial success in the migration West, but the one thing that was missing was the company of a wife. Very few women lived in the West at this time, so it was hard for these men to settle down and start a family. Their only choice was to attract women living back East; the men wrote letters to churches and published personal advertisements in magazines and newspapers. In return, the women would write to the men and send them photographs of themselves.

How To Meet

At least two types of “international marriage agencies” exist. The first type sells female clients’ contact information and encourages men and women to correspond prior to meeting. The second type offers “group tours” for men who want to travel around a foreign country and meet up to a hundred women at social events organized by the agency. If an American male wishes to use the first type, they must supply mental health information and criminal history, and, if they do make a match, will eventually be required to meet the bride in person before she can obtain a US visa.

Strange Education

Johns Hopkins University offers a course called “Mail Order Brides: Understanding the Philippines in Southeast Asian Context” which is supposedly a deep look into Filipino kinship and gender. Why a person would want to study this subject is beyond me, but there must be at least a small amount of demand out there.

Unfriendly Attitudes

Since 2003 Australian Federal Government’s resolve to decrease what was deemed ‘inappropriate immigration’ by then-Prime Minister John Howard has gained momentum. Initial reactions to the program were mixed. The Australian public further embraced their government’s new policies following the media frenzy of the Jana Klintoukh case; this case first exploded into the public’s view when current events program, Today Tonight, aired footage of a young Russian-born Australian, claiming she was imported via an Internet site and was used as a sexual slave by her ‘husband’ while being confined to his Sydney home.

Mail Order

The Philippines prohibits the business of organizing or facilitating marriages between Filipinas and foreign men. The Philippine congress enacted Republic Act 6955 or the Anti-Mail-Order Bride Law in 1990 as a result of stories that appeared in the local press and media about Filipinas being abused by their foreign husbands. Because of this, Filipinas often use “reverse publications” – publications in which men advertise themselves – to contact foreign men for marriage on behalf of the Filipina women.

Big Profits

There is a lot of money to be made in the mail order bride industry. In Taiwan, mail-order brides are sourced primarily from Mainland China and Southeast Asia, especially Vietnam. The common age range for Vietnam women range from 20 to 28 years of age. On average, Taiwanese men spend USD $10,000 on this type of marriage; however, only USD $500 to USD $1,000 dollars will be received by the bride's family and the remainder taken by marriage brokers of the groom and the bride. That is a damn high profit margin.

Dishonest Marketing

On November 18, 2004, a federal jury in Baltimore, Maryland awarded Ukrainian mail-order bride Nataliya Fox $433,500 ($341,000 of which were punitive damages) against international marriage broker Encounters International and its Russian immigrant owner, Natasha Spivack (pictured above). Spivack arranged Nataliya’s marriage to an American man with a history of violently abusing women and who, after being matched with Nataliya, abused her over the course of their marriage. The jury found the marriage broker guilty of fraud, unfair and deceptive trade practices, willful and wanton negligence, unauthorized appropriation of Ms. Fox’s name and likeness, and defamation. The jury found the mail order bride company (Natasha Spivak) liable for failing to tell Nataliya about a federal law that allows foreign nationals to escape abusive marriages without fear of automatic deportation, and for actively misleading her about her legal options. The jury also found EI (Natasha Spivak) liable for misrepresenting that it screened male clients when it did not; and publicizing Nataliya’s marriage to Mr. Fox as an EI “success” story, without her permission, even after she fled to a domestic violence shelter.

After 12 months and over 1,000 emails My lady in Russian has decided to marry me. During this time we have discussed everything good and bad, warts and all. This is the only way. She is not a young chick bit a mature educated lady, who wants nothing but honesty and love. She is even paying her own way to join me. One in a million

I wish you the best. I knew of a similar arrangement: middle aged man, middle aged Russian lady. Both techies. He is a huge fan of Russian culture; they bonded over their mutual love of Pushkin. 20 years later they're still married and very happy with each other. So it can happen, if one is realistic.

The other mail order bride marriage I know of first hand was a complete train wreck, but the American guy was a total lunatic - he was once arrested by the Turkish police while trying to climb Mt Arrarat to find Noah-s Ark.

My rich, older than dirt, uncle who is a CEO of a large organization, purchased a human, halfway across the planet, from the jungle of the Philippines. She's more than 30 years his junior and looks like Miss Universe. If anyone should win an Academy Award, it's this strange pop-tart. She feigns loving the old, wrinkled goat on social media. Constantly showing off on Facebook all the trips and material items she gets rewarded with for selling her body to a rich, dirty old man. Talk about no dignity or pride! She'll sell her body and soul to shop at Hermes and Louis Vuitton. There isn't a penny's worth of difference between a mail-order-bride and a common prostitute. All her friends from the Philippines pull the same degrading stunt. Their entire purpose in life is to marry a horny white guy for money, then become a young widow. In my uncle's case, the human he purchased from an online catalog, is of a completely different race, culture, religion, language - not to mention such a vast age difference (generations). My uncle looks old enough to be her grandfather. It's disturbing to see him touching her in a romantic way. Completely wrong. They don't even look like they belong in the same species. They can't possibly have any connection whatsoever, besides money and material items for her, and sex for him. My uncle's a "brilliant" CEO with zero common sense, or dignity, and he obviously has pedophilia tendencies which is quite disturbing. She's also his third wife! At best, this "arrangement" will last a few years. It's obvious he bought a human to be his sex slave. He's disgusting! He's the laughingstock of all his employees, friends and family. His children are beyond embarrassed of their pathetic father. My uncle obviously doesn't have a "real" marriage. He's sick and dirty in the head. Human trafficking should be illegal. It's not civilized or humane. Those that participate should be shunned by society.

When I was in the military, I was stationed in the Philippines for almost a decade and learned much about the people and their culture. May/December marriages are quite common there; Due to an active life and healthy ways of living and eating, many Filipino men remain vital and healthy to a ripe old age. I've known quite a few older Filipino men that married much younger girls and lived long enough to see their great grandchildren being born. In my opinion it doesn't count as much of a difference if the marriage is composed of one native Filipino to another or one native Filipino to a foreigner. Regardless of what you think, to more people than you'd like to believe, age really is nothing but a number.

Your cynical, bigoted, rambling missive reeks of sour grapes and bitterness. (What happened, did your uncle cut you out of his will?) I'm can be sure with a reasonable amount of certainty that your uncle is not an innocent, foolish or gullible man. (One does not get rich without be shrewd, clever and calculating...very few people get rich without being crafty and being a good judge of peoples character.) As for marrying for money, I've met quite a few western women that where all about the cash. Gold-diggers come in many colors, ages and nationalities.

Oh, come on! A 30-year-age gap is not "just a number." These mail-order-bride "arrangements" are just that, arrangements. They are not marriages. A man in his 60's has NO business siring more children when he won't be active in his children lives, even if he's still alive for his child's 10th birthday.

The whole thing is sick.

I'm sure that they don't see it that way. In fact marriage is such a serious thing in the PI that they can't legally get divorce. And while you with your western sensibilities can't fathom a 30 year age gap being not so uncommon, the fact remains that in some cultures it is. And while being in the Philippines, if I had a euro for every male nonagenarian that I've seen presiding over 3 of 4 generation of his progeny with his sexagenarian wife at his side at barrio fiestas and such, I'd have a small fortune. What I find sick is the cynicism that says that someone young can't marry someone old without it being an arrangement and not a loving relationship.

I'm not bashing the culture in the Philippines.. I'm judging a Westerner who doesn't share their culture, language, religion, and is generations away from a mail-order-bride he purchased. Why would a man resort to buying a human? Because he wants to own her. The defenders of this human trafficking, like to say, the men just want a "traditional marriage" which is an absolute joke. There is no American tradition where old men sought out a woman of a different race, religion, language and culture and is 30 years younger than himself. And yes, in the Philippines, the brides cannot get divorced. They are stuck, often times, in a sexless, loveless "arrangement" with a dictator.

- It's a sick dynamic.

Mrs Reynolds I pity your poor husband because you clearly don't understand what makes him tick. He is a sexual being and whether you like it or not, men will be men. The fact is that men (who are being honest) like attractive young women--this is simple biology. It comes from the fact that young women are more likely to be fertile and mating is what men and women are all about. Just because you have been brainwashed by 100 years of feminist bs is not going to stop millions of years of evolution.

What??? Women are sexual beings, too. What makes you think only men want sex with a hottie. No women likes to "get it on" with an old, fat, disgusting man old enough to be her grandfather. Just like a young man would be repulsed having sex with an old disgusting lady. However, prostitutes and mail-order-brides will bite the bullet and do the disgusting, unthinkable act, for money. Fact is, you brought up men are "sexual beings" as if sex is the only reason they marry these desperate, unsophisticated, child-like creatures from third world countries, and I believe sex IS the only reason. However, sex alone does not make a marriage. Would these old men want their daughters to grow up selling their bodies to men for money? These aren't real marriages. Like others point out, it's an "arrangement." Sex for money. Legal prostitution. Don't try to sugar coat this and pretend these "marriages" are something other than legal prostitution. As to biology and mating. A man in his sixties is TOO old to be "mating" like a damn farm animal and bringing more children into the world. The poor children will surely grow up without a father. I love how you blame "feminists" as the reason this men order - from catalogs - bikini clad, young foreign women, rolling around in a bed in high heels - telling the men anything they think the old horny bastard wants to hear - sweet nothings like "I live to be your slave." The real reason these men order these young glorified prostitutes is because these men are "unfuckable" by American standards - American women want nothing to do with these horny bastards. That's why the men resort to such pathetic measures and blame American women for all their problems.

Not real marriages? funny I bet there's a marriage license, a solemnized service, etc. I'm sure it's a real marriage. Feminists have attempted to put up as many roadblocks as they can (IMBRA, notification laws to protect foreign women from domestic violence, etc.) and yet the American man / Foreign women marriages continue - quite successfully. And maybe you are not interested in an older man, but there are women in the world that are - just like there are women who prefer older or younger men. Who are you to say it's wrong? I love the way feminists want to impose their will on every woman on the planet.

I can't apologize for the fact that a man in his sixties can still reproduce while a woman is finished after menopause, because I didn't design the system. Since feminists can't find anyone to blame for that anomaly, they have to be satisfied with trying to inhibit the natural male impulse to reproduce by saying it's wrong and repulsive. It's the same reason they call marriages to foreign women wrong and repulsive; they can't do anything about it. And as far as growing up without a father? Over 50% of the children born in the US currently grow up without a father, either because of the abysmal divorce rate here, or because of the high number of women who choose to have children out of wedlock, or without a male in the picture at all. I never hear feminists attacking that issue. If the 60 year old guy wants kids, he also wants a younger, fertile woman who can give him kids.

The horny old bastards are unfuckable? Then foreign brides are a panacea for you! If American women want nothing to do with them, and they can find what they want elsewhere, and that other woman is willing to be with the horny guy, then they will leave you alone - it's what you want - right? It's a win-win for everyone. I really love this argument, because it shows the idiocy of the American feminist paradigm. Feminists want a system where women can make their own decisions, unfettered by the influence of men (but it seems that only American feminist women have the intelligence and requisite mindset to make their own decisions; foreign women are stupid, immature, naïve, etc.). And all the men that marry foreign brides are no longer available to bother the feminist. She should be happy, but she isn't; she'd prefer that the pathetic guy (a euphemism for any guy that refuses to accept the feminist paradigm) remain alone - at least until he decides to forfeit the fight and admit that women are the superior gender. So exactly why do feminists hate American man-foreign woman marriages? The answer can only be one of two: Either they are jealous of the feminine beauty that exists outside the American borders (they'll never admit to that one), or they want to keep all of the "non-conforming" males corralled and miserable: a captive audience - so they can leverage their power to the max (which makes them pretty disgusting creatures).

Just because a man can "produce" at age 100, doesn't mean he should. The old farts who marry and impregnate much younger women have to realize they won't be alive to raise their own offspring. Another fatherless child in America is the last thing this country needs. Funny how you're so worried about divorce, and the affect that has on a child, but you're not the least bit concerned about a child who will likely be fatherless by the time he's in middle school because his father died of old age! Even a child of divorce sees their father on the weekends and has a relationship with their father. But in your warped mind, a dead father, or a father too old to be of any positive influence, is better than a divorced father who has an active role in the child's life, and financially supports the child. How do you convince yourself of your own bullshit?

What's this shit about "non-conforming males?" If you don't want to conform to America, and it's traditions, why don't you leave? There has never been a tradition in the United States of old (usually divorced) farts seeking young women of a different race, religion and culture to marry them and have their children. The majority of men seeking mail-order-brides are much older, have failed marriages under their belt, and grown children. Yet they selfishly bring more children into their bizarro mix. Children they probably don't even want, but tolerate, in order to keep the young bride from fleeing, once the green card arrives.

You clearly despise your own country and hate your own race. Fair enough. You're entitled to that. But you don't deserve to be an American. Move to the Philippines or Russia, the country your bride is desperate to leave behind.

I still want to know; are you a man or a woman? I'm going to assume that you're a man - and that you're the same guy that responded to my post above. But I've got to tell you - this answer sounds like a woman wrote it.

Why did we jump from age 60 to 100? There are very few people alive (from either gender) at that age? But there is a reasonable chance that a 60 year old man will live through his child's teen years. And I disagree with your assertion that a dead father is more traumatic than a divorced father. A child raised in a loving harmonious family who loses a parent due to death is more likely to survive intact than a child of divorce - especially if the marriage and divorce were acrimonious. Death is a horrible event for a child, but it happens and it's over. Divorce goes on an on. If you care to give me your contact information, I'll email you the data.

You want me to conform to America and its traditions? I think the more accurate statement is you want me to conform to your idea of what is right. There are no "American" traditions (short of maybe watching baseball or firing up the barbeque on the 4th of July). America is the melting pot, remember? Everyone gets to do what they want. We have Christian traditions, Jewish traditions, Gay and Straight traditions - they're all here; it's what makes this country great. We say what we want and we do what we want, and if I want to bring a foreign woman here because I think she will be a better bride than anything I can find in the US, and she wants to come here, then it's really nobody else's business. The future will tell if I'm a smart guy or a fool, but the statistics are definitely on my side. If you feel the need to live where everybody must conform to one ideal, then maybe you'd be better off somewhere where words like ethnic cleansing are used.

I love your last paragraph! I've had so many feminists say things like that to me! But it's wrong; If I hated this country, then I would leave in a heartbeat. I love this country. But I hate what feminism is doing to it. And you think I hate my race too? I've never brought race into this discussion: you did.

Are you a racist as well as a feminist?

Doubt it would be any fun being a 10 year old kid with a father in his 70's. You do slow down as you age. You are being very unrealistic to think this story will have a happy ending. Like I said, a "successful" marriage is not the same as a miserable marriage. Just because you're happy, doesn't mean she is. Good luck to you. Hopefully, you will find love and happiness.

Being a white knight for women will not score you any points with them. And where in any of my posts do I ever suggest that I want a sex slave ?? The fact is that it's most American men are slaves to sex: willing to do anything for access to the elusive pussy. If more men took a stand against the system that is so heavily stacked against them instead of "coming to the rescue", then maybe American women would fall in line. White knights are part of the problem, not the solution.

I don't disagree that sometimes this could be true, however you state it as fact which is very ignorant to say the least. My wife is half Filipino her grandmother was a mail order bride, she was not uneducated she was a doctor in the Philippines and nurse once in the US(different standards) her grandfather was an oil worker in the US, he was also Filipino and not rich nor fat and old. They are still married to this day. The brides aren't the ones getting pussies it is the companies making the connection thus not making them prostitutes and they are not for purchase, not much different than a modern dating website. Now some companies probably are on the unethical side but this doesn't make every person or company involved guilty.

Mail order bride/whores are not a threat to western women as most Western have a penis and wouldn't be caught dead buying a mail order bride for a sex slave/wife, b/c that's the only way he could keep a woman.

Only a prideless, dickless wonder would order a female for marriage and sex. It would be one thing to meet an Asian American at work, or something, and love developed. You might have something in common with her. Quite another to actually order one, half your age, from an online catalog, a girl with a different culture, living in a jungle somewhere, for the purpose of slavery and sex.

You can insult all you want. But the fact is that out western society has lost it's values. We have nannies and child care raising our kids. They don't need child care, they need their loving mother. But loving mommy wants to be just like daddy and go to work and grow her own penis. Our divorce rate is very high. Families are broken and "reconstituted".

I have a penis, I don't need my wife to grow her own.

The Western culture has not "lost it's values." Americans have never "valued" ordering sexy wives from online catalogs, young women of a different race, language, culture, generation, religion. Our divorce rate might be "high" but that's not an excuse to abandon the Western culture and buy a submissive human who sells her body and soul for money. What kind of role-model would this door-mat Mommy - make for her American children? What can she possibly teach a daughter? To suck up to an old white man and be his slave, so he'll throw money at her? These are NOT values you want your daughter to have.

Also, how would this mail-order-bride, possibly fit in in the Western world? If you're going to order a mail-order-bride, better off living in HER country and culture. She'd never fit in in the Western world.

LOL at you trying to say that a woman who wants a career of her own wants to grow her own penis.

Wow.

Women can have careers, sure.

But you can't have both a career and children.

I already have a divorce under my belt.

The bitch get alimony and child support so she goes out and picks up men on my dime.

My job as the father is to bring home the bacon.

Your job as the woman is to cook the bacon and feed it to your children.

Want a caress?

Have at it girly it but don't expect to do both your mommy job and mine without consequences.

I got nothing against bra burning, smart, educated, career driven women.

Just not interested in having two bitches on alimony. One is enough.

This is not a critique against women. Rather it is a critique against the western culture which has lost it's ways and values.

46% divorce rate in Canada.

In my area, it's even higher at 78%.

This indicates something is very wrong with how we look at families..

Yoy smellin' what I'm sellin'?

Spoken like a true American feminist. Our divorce rate is high and that is why we should not abandon the western culture? Of course a woman would say that; they make out in divorce. But it is exactly why men should abandon western culture - they get screwed. It's possible that he may wind up with a foreign gold digger next time around, but he is almost certain to wind up with another American gold digger if he remains faithful to western culture. The man's chances are much better overseas.

most Western... women have a penis? I can't say MOST, but I've certainly seen a large number of them who seem to think they do and that their man should not.

men don't 'like' attractive young women, they like to objectify attractive young women. if they are seeking only youth and looks then they're seeking to only satisfy their sexual greed. if you want love then you'd gravitate towards people you share common ground with and who can intellectually stimulate you. when you love someone, you're (very likely) sexually attracted to them because of it. sexual attraction isn't based purely on looks and youth unless you're an ignorant, bigoted pig. in which case, a whore who objectifies you as a big fat dollar sign and nothing more is all you deserve.

I disagree with most of this. You need to listen to what men are saying. Older women are not as attractive to men for a number of reasons. The younger women are much more positive; every new day is a new opportunity. Older women are more likely to be jaded. I've dated women from different generations, and I get sick of listening to older women lament about their appearance, or what "that bastard" did to them. Over 40% of the women over age 40 in America are on anti-depressant medication. Then add the threat of getting fleeced at the divorce court, and the inevitable menopause

(a huge turnoff for guys) and it's no wonder why older women have a difficult time in the US.

Maybe the equation changes a little if the guy is looking for marriage vs. a girlfriend, but I think you know from my other posts that I would never marry an American woman, but I'm perfectly fine with having them as a girlfriend. And if I'm not going to make a commitment for the future, then there's no problem hooking up with the hottest woman I can find, because there's no threat to my wallet.

I'll make you a deal - I'll stop using American women for my own selfish pleasure as soon as American women stop using men as human ATM machines. As soon as women choose to work hard to make their marriage last, rather than looking forward to the divorce and all the financial benefits that come with the divorce. As soon as college culture is changed so events like the Duke Lacrosse rape case can never happen again. As soon as women support laws that allow men to recover child support payments from the mother or the real father in cases where a man is forced to support a child who is not his, or a child born of deception. In short - I'll respect American women as soon as they respect men and all that men do for them. Until then, I'm only interested in pump and dump with American women. The foreign women are the ones that have my respect, and the respect of any guy I talk to who goes over there and spends some time with the truly feminine beauty that exists outside America's borders. That's where I'll find my future.

So what you're really saying is that it's okay for a man to marry a woman who is 30 years younger - but not here? not where you live? And your rant about no man seeking a woman of a different race, religion, language? It happens all the time in the US. We're the melting pot - remember? So really your only point is that it's okay for two consenting adults to do whatever they want - just not in your backyard? I wonder why you are so threatened.....

The only one who's "threatened" is you. You're threatened by modern American women. If you want to order a hot female over the internet 30-plus years younger, that's your business. Just keep your warped logic (blaming feminism/modern women) to yourself. Makes you sound so stupid. You need to move to a country where the people think backwards like you. Americans got rid of slavery years

Again the feminist man strikes! This answer makes no sense at all; it's just ranting. American women don't threaten me; I just choose not to personally deal with them because I think there are better options out there. The world is not that big anymore; we have multinational corporations, free trade, international monetary policies, etc. And we live in a country that accepts everybody. So why the furor over international dating and marriage?

And why do all the feminists assume that international marriages always involve a 30 year age difference? I have never revealed my age or the age of the women I correspond with. Everyone thinks I'm 60 and chasing a hot 25 year old who can't speak English. Why is that ?

Actually it kinda is an American tradition. In the 1800s men moved west to get free land to make a homestead and search for gold. They would strike it rich and yet have no companionship but have everything else. There weren't any women to meet and they would get mail order brides. I do not doubt that there is human trafficking going on, which is disgusting however that is not always the case. My best friends are brothers their mother is from the Philippines and father is an American from French Canadian decent, they have been married over 40 years, she recently passed away leaving him a widow they were in a very loving relationship, he wasn't rich, lived in a small town in california, they lived a pretty normal life. She wasn't paid to marry him, he paid to meet the women he chose in a catalog, went to the Philippines to meet in person, she wasn't the first but the first he "fell" for. Some of these could be disgusting but not all, some people pay for dating sites which have the same dangers and possibilities; it isn't that different. I however have not tried it, my wife of 9 years i met in the same hometown and is half Filipino, her grandmother was a mail order bride to another Filipino in the US, they are both together and alive today, he was an oil worker she was a nurse. These are the only ones i know personally and they were not slaves, hookers, or gold diggers just lacked companionship and found it.

I gave up on American women long ago. Too damn picky and disrespectful, most of them. Too many distractions in our society and most women just want to have a good time until they are 40, but by then it's too late. And then there's divorce practically available like a fast food drive through. Women always end up winning in the courts and taking 1/2 after they took all the furniture, both cars and drained all bank accounts. Then if I have kids with one they will use them as a pawn to get what they want after telling them how bad of a person daddy is. I've seen it too many times with friends where they work all day and the wife won't even cook or even be part of the team to make things work. Instead they run up credit cards making them work even harder. If you look at what foreign women's values, they are completely different from American women. They want someone who is honest, god fearing and family oriented. American women have a long list in what they expect in a partner. Go ahead, look at the dating sites and see for yourself how picky they are in comparison. In my opinion it's just a waste of time.

Time for you to strap on a fake dick, if the only way to get sex and keep a woman is to buy a submissive sex slave from the other side of the world. Good luck to your prideless mail-order-bride making friends in the U.S. or Europe. Not many women are anxious to be friends with a total prideless, doormat. She's not going to have an easy time relating to anyone in America or Europe.

Who are you to judge? I'd love to know your history. Are you an older woman who can't get a man because they are all chasing the younger women? American feminism has created a whole class of women who spend all of their younger years banging every guy available (because women can do anything a man can do - right?), climbing the corporate ladder, becoming successful in the work place, and then turning miserable when they're older, without a husband or children, and their ovaries are ticking louder than a time bomb. Guys can have children when they're older if they want, and if a guy can get a hot younger woman, then why would he settle for someone who is not as attractive, or not fertile? Mother nature is the great equalizer. Feminists call it bull* and unfair - I call it payback.

And when the foreign cupcake who sold her young, hot body over the internet, becomes Americanized as you continue to gross her out - she'll start looking at young, hot American men to have affairs with. In fact, this foreign sex kitten will be a MAGNET for young American men - when they see she obviously ain't getting good sex with some old creep she's stuck married to. And while you're out working your ass off to support her QVC and shopping addiction - she'll be romping around in your bed with the hot UPS man or pool boy and spending YOUR money entertaining them, no doubt.

And don't you dare judge her when this happens! You didn't want anyone judging you for buying sex over the internet.

Foreign women need good sex too! Who's gonna settle for an old wrinkled dick - when she can get a young dick on a hot young body? Once she's in America - with that green card and some money - she's in a position to look for love.

One day, you'll find your mail-order-bride in bed, having awesome sex, with a real man she wants to be with. That'll be your payback.

The cupcake will become Americanized? And then she'll leave her man? I'm glad there is at least one person here who realizes that it's the American woman's way of thinking that is fatal to love and relationships! I love the way women here talk about what COULD happen, or how they assume I'm old - I don't think I've ever mentioned my age. But none of them want to face reality or hard facts; these marriages work. Any women here want to put a feminist twist on why marriages to foreign women are successful 80% of the time, while marriages to American women are successful less than 50% of the time? I didn't make the figures up; they are from the USCIS, and refer to marriages that have lasted 10 years or more - far longer than it takes to get a green card or find a UPS guy. It amuses me to no end how upset American feminists get whenever this subject is mentioned. It's got to be a huge threat to them - as it should be....

- An autopsy report has revealed how a model was scalped and drained of blood, in a murder branded unprecedented "outside of wartime".

COMIC BOOK WRITER HIRES UKRAINIAN "WIFE" AND KILLS HER BECAUSE SHE DROVE HIM CRAZY

Comic book writer Blake Leibel, 35, is charged with the murder of the mother of his child, Ukrainian-born Iana Kasian, 30.

She died of exsanguination -- being drained of her blood -- according the medical documents, and blunt force trauma to the head.

She is also believed to have been tortured for hours in a knife attack in a Los Angeles apartment.

The murder took place in May last year and Mr Leibel, the heir to a plastics and property fortune, could be given the death sentence if found guilty, due to the severity of the crime.

Dr James Ribe, of the Los Angeles County Coroner's office, gave a harrowing description of Ms Kasian's death in an autopsy report.

"[Her] entire scalp was traumatically absent and was not found, was not present with the body. Her skull had been stripped down to the surface of the bone ... there was no scalp present except for little bits in the back of the neck," he said, according to the Toronto Sun.

"Also portions of the right side of her face were torn away including the right ear and part of the posterior face on the right side, all the way down the jawline."

Dr Ribe also said there were bruises and abrasions on Ms Kasian's face, including a human bite mark.

In a grim twist, the autopsy also revealed Ms Kasian "lived for at least eight hours approximately after receiving the scalp injury and the bruise to the collarbone."

Dr Ribe said: "I have never seen this before. And I doubt hardly any forensic pathologists in this country or abroad have even seen this, outside of, perhaps, wartime ... it's extremely rare."

Mr Leibel, a Toronto native, is charged with murder, mayhem, aggravated mayhem and torture.

His lawyers are reportedly planning to argue he is mentally unfit for trial.

The couple's one-year-old child is now with Ms Kasian's mother.

In addition to writing a number of comic books, Mr Leibel was the director of an animated version of the 1987 Mel Brooks Star Wars parody, Spaceballs.

He also directed the straight-to-DVD film Bald, released in 2008.

His father, Lorne Leibel, is prominent real estate developer in Toronto who also competed in the 1976 Olympic sailing team.

He stayed an avid racer of both boats and cars, and referred to himself as the "Ferrari Man".
